Suit for Alimony. At St. Clairwille yesterday Mrs. Hannah Abbott, of Durham, England, by her attor-ney, George Duncan, Esq., entered suit for alamony sgainst George Abbott, of Bridgeport. The question of identity will figure in this case. Abbott, the defendant, married Miss Irene Yost about a year ago at Bridgeport. Several weeks ago he was arrested, charged with bigamy. The plaintiff in the case preferred the charge. She claimed that he had deserted her in 1876 and had come to this country. His letters at first had been affectionate, but grew cold, and then stopped altogether.
Abbott was held in the sum of $600 to ap-Abbott was held in the sum of $600 to appear before the Common Pleas Court at the next term. Abbott strennously denies that he is the man, but the English Haunah says that she will start for America in time to prove the charge.

ROYAL ROAD RACE.

A GREAT EVENT FOR WHEELMEN

The Winners of the Prizes Offered. THE work of tarring and sanding the Sixteenth street pavement was begun yes-has been published, took place yesterday, and was in every way as great a success as had been anticipated. Of course there were accidents, but they were expected.

The race was gotton up by and under the management of J. V. Stevenson, of Greensburg, Pa., a bicyclist of considerable renown, he having done some remarkable work in the way of distance riding on his wheel. The six gentlementhat he interested in the sport sufficiently to enter for the race were G. W. Beck, of Greensburg, J. M. Critchlow, of Beaver Falls; T. F. Cummings and R. L. Stuft, of Scottdale, and U. T. Kramer and William. Beeson, of Uniontown. The race discussion over a year ago have been equalled the past two or three evenings, and are again attracting attention.

The Wheeling Wheelmen were out in force and the hearty welcome they extended to the strangers made them feel perfectly at home and dispelled the worn out feeling that all had felt at the conclusion of the trip. After washing off the fust and mud and getting into the clean clothes sent on ahead, and outside an appetitsing supper, the strangers felt as gay as larks, and leaving the machines to await a cleaning in the morning (one adry vantage a bicycle has over a horse) proceeded to fraternize again.
